1	"Dear Sir/Ma'am I am writing to clarify that, as a recognized startup, we are exempt from submitting the Earnest Money Deposit (EMD). According to the General Terms and Conditions on GeM 4.0 (Version 1.14) dated January 31, 2024, for purchasing under section 4.xiii.m.ii: ""Start-ups recognized by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), holding a valid Startup Recognition Certificate (which must be uploaded while bidding and claiming EMD exemption and validated by the Buyer), are exempt from EMD submission. The bidder must ensure that the turnover for any financial year has not exceeded the limits prescribed in the certificate/Start-Up scheme of DPIIT."" We will upload our valid Startup Recognition Certificate from DPIIT and confirm that our turnover for all relevant financial years remains within the prescribed limits. So, we would like to acknowledge and accept our EMD exemption. "	As per GeM General Terms & Conditions, the EMD exemption will be accepted along with necessary supporting documents.
2	We kindly request the department to incorporate specifications for both AMD and Intel processors to promote fair and transparent competition. Specifically, we suggest including the AMD Ryzen5 4600G alongside the Intel Core i5 10400 in the golden parameters. This aligns with the guidelines outlined by Meity, GFR, and CVC	An equivalent processor make for the specifications outlined in the bid published
